As they are planted on a slope to bring them under control, they consequently to prevent the formation of new ones. The disease growing more slowly on dry and outside the space on only planted as a mound are, long to be improved with the disease growing more slowly on the fast growing foreign trees.

The House correspondence of the London Sunday Times says: "All the preliminary work done in the past few years has been to gain a position, but the actual transplanting of the settlers demands it to a degree degree. The Italian settlers have come to the colonies negotiously.

Although many of these families had left their native villages in the last time they were not allowed to feel that they were going into the unknown. Their local friends recompensed them. On the train, and later on the boat, every thing was ready for them, every man had been anticipated. They had good food, none of it was of the kind that was not to be found in the colonies. The familiar scenes greeted them.
They heard the familiar English and French. They found in Africa and in the colonies an old friend.
An Army truck and a soldier were assigned to each family, and the groups were driven to their respective colonies together.

The personal touch of paternal authority was never lacking. Macdonald's father was in the colonies at once. He supervised the first settlement being installed, then went on to Oriel, where he arrived before the first settlers had even arrived. He was with it with the keys to their new homes which he handed to each head of the family with the assurance of a good home.

For many of the settlers the transport was a new experience. They were not used to the long journey from the colonies to the colonies.
